65-0429E The Choosing Of A Bride

227 And, lady, if you can't measure up to the qualification of a Christian, not as a nominal Christian, but in your heart, and your life is patterned exactly like God's marriage certificate, here, says it has to be..

65-0429E The Choosing Of A Bride

228 And, church member, if your church isn't like that, can measure up to God's qualification of His Word, get out of it and get into Christ.

65-0429E The Choosing Of A Bride

229 That is solemn warning. We don't know what time, and you don't know what time, that this city one day is going to be laying out here in the bottom of this ocean.

65-0429E The Choosing Of A Bride

230 “Oh, Capernaum,” said Jesus, “thou who exalted into heaven, will be brought down into hell. For, if the mighty works had been done in Sodom and Gomorrah, it’d have been standing to this day.”

65-0429E The Choosing Of A Bride

... And Sodom, Gomorrah lays in the bottom of the Dead Sea. And Capernaum is in the bottom of the sea.

65-0429E The Choosing Of A Bride

231 Thou city, who claims to be the city of the Angels, who has exalted yourself into heaven, and sent all the dirty, filthy things of fashions and things, till even the foreign countries come here to pick up our filth and send it away, to your fine churches and steeples, and so forth, the way you do.

65-0429E The Choosing Of A Bride

Remember, one day you'll be laying in the bottom of the sea, your great honeycomb under you right now. The wrath of God is belching right beneath you. How much longer He will hold this sandbar hanging out over that?

65-0429E The Choosing Of A Bride

... When, that ocean out yonder, a mile deep, will slide in there, plumb back to the Salton Sea. It'll be worse than the last day of Pompeii. Repent, Los Angeles.

65-0429E The Choosing Of A Bride

232 Repent, the rest of you, and turn to God. The hour of His wrath is upon the earth. Flee while there's time to flee, and come into Christ.

San Andreas fault

An aerial photograph of the San Andreas Fault in California. The fault is a prominent, dark, linear depression running north-south through a rugged, mountainous landscape. The terrain is characterized by steep, eroded slopes and a complex network of smaller faults and ridges. The colors range from dark brown and black in the fault line to light tan and yellow in the surrounding hills.

“the big one”

Geovera.com

California, known for its landscapes and vibrant cities, has been facing an imminent danger looming for centuries—a massive earthquake. The San Andreas Fault, which runs alongside Los Angeles, is considered long overdue for a significant seismic event.

... Despite efforts to improve earthquake prediction, the threat remains unpredictable, leaving millions of Californians vulnerable to the devastating impact of the Big One.

Overdue and Unpredictable: The Looming Earthquake Threat in Southern California

July 2024 The Atlantic

Scientists have long warned about the inevitability of a major earthquake in Southern California. In the July 2024 article, “California is 150 Years Overdue for a Massive Earthquake” in The Atlantic, Ross Andersen states, ...

... “In 1989, an earthquake hit the Bay Area, immersing the state in seismic catastrophe imagery. A freeway overpass snapped, San Francisco’s Victorians toppled, a fire broke out in the Marina, and the World Series was halted. “The big one is supposed to be worse,” he says.

The article mentions that the San Andreas Fault formed 30 million years ago, lies beneath Southern California. There has not been a major quake in over three centuries, though it typically occurs every 150 to 200 years. Greg Beroza, a Stanford professor and co-director of the Southern California Earthquake Center, says, “We are overdue.”

But surely that couldn't happen!

"On Jan. 26, 1700, an earthquake on the Cascadia fault caused the forest to lurch downward by more than 3 feet. Soon after, a tsunami perhaps 100 feet high barreled through at 20 or 30 mph."

“But the scientists don’t agree, I don’t think that will happen.”

With Los Angeles and San Diego on the list of cities that will be partially underwater by 2050 being of the most concern, other famous cities like San Francisco that will be underwater by 2100 seem like less of an impending threat. ...

... Still, with major districts of San Francisco predicted to be under seven feet of water in 75 years, rising sea level in the city is a real threat indeed.

Why would a loving God allow such a thing?
