Women at the well vs
Jezebel

65-0120 Lean Not Unto Thy Own Understanding

The little woman at the well, she was immoral. But, she knowed that the churches had excommunicated her and, but she never leaned upon her own understanding, when she met this One at the well, Who told her all the sins that she had done, she run into the city.

65-0120 Lean Not Unto Thy Own Understanding

... Now, it wasn't right for a woman to do that, to go in and say anything, 'cause she was a prostitute. But when she had met Jesus, she never leaned to the understanding of the people, them days.

62-0724 Sir, We Would See Jesus

While they were gone, there was a pretty woman come out there, she was of a ill-fame, we know what you mean there, the red-light type, but she might have been a lovely girl. ...

62-0724 Sir, We Would See Jesus

... No doubt but what she was a lovely girl, but maybe she had something to cause that, maybe her mother turned her on the street when she was a kid.

62-0724 Sir, We Would See Jesus

You know, we talk so much in America about juvenile delinquency, it ain't juvenile delinquent, it's parent delinquency. ...

62-0724 Sir, We Would See Jesus

... Sometimes a girl goes wrong because her mother don't make her do right. That's exactly right. So a lot of times it's parents' fault, not children, a juvenile delinquency.

But it takes trust to be modest.

But it takes

trust

to be truly feminine.
