Now, we know that Abraham had two sons, by two different women. God gave him a promise by Sarah, through Sarah, rather, that there would be a Son born, and through this Son the world would be blessed.

... All nations would be blessed of this Son. And it's commonly believed, especially amongst the Jews, that this was Isaac, but it wasn't. This promised Son of Abraham is Jesus, and He is of the Royal Seed promise, of Abraham.

But Pentecost represented Mary. Mary, the last stage of It, now, she was not the Seed. Yet, the Life of the Seed was in her, but It hadn't matured yet. I feel very religious. Mary got the seed, It hadn't matured yet. It was there, but It wasn't matured.

So is it with our Pentecostal age that we're living in! There has got to come forth a Word of God that's inner, undenominational, outside of the realms of that denomination.

Luther went to husk with his first word, “The just shall live by faith.” Wesley had two words, “sanctification,” second definite work of grace. Pentecost had the third word, “the restoration of the gifts.” But the entire Seed has to come forth! See how they denominated on one word, and another word, and another word?

But there's got to be Something that cannot be denominated; it's the entirety of the Life that's in there, has to produce Itself again on a Bride. There cannot be any more church ages after this. We're at the end, brothers and sisters. We're here. We've arrived.
